CROSS-CUTTING INTERVENTIONS

Research and Learning

Nobo Jatra undertakes various research studies, learning activities within the CLA framework, to adapt, strengthen and innovate interventions based on the realities of the local landscape. The findings of the research are leveraged to inform project strategies and interventions and they are disseminated through local and national events.

Monitoring and Evaluation

Nobo Jatra has a robust monitoring and evaluation process which enables real time data collection and entry using a state-of-the-art system. Concrete directives and lessons learnt are derived from the monitoring data analyses making project implementation more effective and sustainable.

Policy, Advocacy and Strategic Partnerships

Nobo Jatra aims to improve and influence policy, regulation and governance by working in partnership with all levels of government, academia, community-based institutions, non-government organizations and service providers. This strategy relies on building partnerships and leveraging resources in the Feed the Future zone of influence and beyond. Through advocacy efforts and investments, Nobo Jatra also seeks innovative solutions to policy challenges and strives to foster the political will to help solve them.
